Mawkyrduk (Stonehenge)

Mawkyrduk is a heritage site in Meghalaya and these stones are interlinked to their rich culture and tradition of the indigenous tribe of the people in Meghalaya.

To feel the true sense of this charming romance in rocks, one has to visit the place to see and be beheld by the aura and also the sheer sense of magnificence.

Mawranglang

Located 5 km from Mawkyrwat, Mawranglang is a beautiful valley on the Nongstoin-Mawkyrwat road meandering across the River. It is a serene place, surrounded by grassy hills and a wide-ranging view of the effusive mighty Rilang River and it is also a perfect picnic and angling spot.

Nongnah Village

Nongnah is under Ranikor Block. It is located 30 km to the South-West of Mawkyrwat and is considered to be one of the most beautiful villages of the area. From this plateau one gets a bird's eye view of the surrounding hills and valleys, besides the plain and rivers of Bangladesh and the Himalayas. When one looks from a distance it looks like a bed which legends say is the bed of the legendary greens. On this plateau there is a cave, the longest of all caves found in Khasi Hills.
